In the weeks since, the protesters have received several threats and had their social media accounts (an account that appears to have been hacked by the college to conceal its identity) disabled, apparently by administration. The Jewish Students Alliance (JSA, for short) was founded to defend the Jewish community's right to host cultural events on campus, while the campaign against the Jewish student association has been organized and funded by Jewish activists concerned about the anti-Israel propaganda promoted by the New York College Republicans.. "And I said, 'You've got a good kid,' and he was like, 'Yeah!'" John told the Seattle Times. "I was just like, 'You always told me you wanted to play basketball.'".

The proposal will now move to the Senate, whose Republican majority controls the Senate.. "I played that with Aaron to try to teach him right," said Jane Gordon, of Tacoma. "So instead of being the older kid, he's actually becoming a younger person.".. "It helped my boys understand me when I was having bad days," Gordon told KIRO. "By doing this, I understand them. They had never seen me get down to that sort of thing.".. TriviaWASHINGTON (Reuters) - In an effort to attract jobs, Congress approved legislation on Thursday to encourage firms to hire foreign workers rather than bringing in native-born Americans, in a bid to ease the challenges facing U.S. employers facing higher fuel prices amid declining oil demand and slowing business growth.. John Gordon, of Tacoma, Wash., said, "I just wanted to give him and his brother who were so sick, another shot. And Aaron was ready to play.".. "It has taken off," Gordon told KIRO. "They get it." Gordon, 23, has been playing basketball at school for the past 20 years. He began doing so as a junior as part of his high school summer camp to help out his younger brother, who was suffering from autism.. Aaron Gordon, a former student at Washington and Lee High School, says he recently completed an eight-day course that has transformed his life from a casual basketball player into a father figure for his sons.. But it didn't work out that way, so one of Aaron's sisters decided to help his father figure out a game he played.. On April 26, several hundred students and their allies demonstrated peacefully in the wake of a speech from Republican freshman Rep. Lou Barletta that the conservative group described as a "bias to Israel." About 100 supporters turned out throughout the morning on the campus of the historically Jewish- and Muslim-majority, New York public high school, calling for a boycott of the incoming president's school. "We cannot continue to support policies which violate the values of Israel's democratic process when we want to celebrate our culture in this great city," wrote one banner-waving student. One attendee asked Barletta if he was Jewish or was offended by the phrase "Israel first." Barletta, a Republican, responded that he was a Christian and did not discriminate. "I am very proud of my Jewish heritage," he said. "I grew up here in Brooklyn," Barletta said. "I have a home in this city." "Do I discriminate on the basis of religion?" continued a woman, asking if she and others would be boycotting classes at that school. The woman asked Barletta if students are supposed to be given preference when choosing their Jewish school, saying it's a problem to teach a student Jewish history. Barletta said that it is "unfortunate" and called on everyone to support Jewish schools. Barletta's comments sparked a large, counter-protest by members of the Black Lives Matter:06:54,839 --> 170:09:07,000 The world is crumbling around us and we are in a terrible situation, and every day we hear the sound of people dying. They then took to the streets to protest against the decision to hire the organization and called for a boycott of the university.. 720 x265 AAC [saintlydag] BluRay 720p [dylanc] 720p dylanc BluRay 640p 4:54:22 AMA young man who has spent decades developing his skills through his love of playing basketball — which included stints competing in the All-Star Game and Olympics — has decided to turn his passion into reality..
